SOVIET-MANCHUKUO FRICTION

Dairen, Sept. 14.
Much concern has been caused at Changchun by two incidents, according to an official message from a Manchukuo news agency, which says that on September 10 eleven Soviet armoured vessels sailed up the Amur River for Blagoveshensk, deliberately keeping close to the Manchukuo shore of the river.
On September 9 four armed Outer Mongol soldiers crossed the border and seized 98 horses grazing in Manchukuo territory, and disappeared with them.
The Manchukuo Government is expected to lodge a strong protest over the incidents.

EMPEROR REFUTES CHARGES

Addis Ababa, Sept. 14.
In a French language radio broadcast, transmitted via the station built by the Italians five miles from the capital the Emperor of Abyssinia once more assured the people of Europe and the United States of Abyssinia's readiness for a peaceable solution of the conflict with Italy but at the same time stressed the country's determination to reject all demands directed against the independence of Abyssinia.
"We do not want war," the Emperor said, "but neither will we surrender. The Abyssinian people not only love peace, but also their country, and will successfully resist any attempt at subjugation, in spite of the fact that the country has been deprived of technical means for defence by Italian trickery."

"This is not the place for a reply to the Italian charges, but the Government, though it has not yet received the memorandum distributed by the Italians at Geneva, is prepared to answer all the charges contained in it and to leave the verdict to the world."
The Emperor concluded with the announcement that the Abyssinian delegation at Geneva had been instructed to demand the appointment of a committee for the investigation of the charges brought forward by the Italians against Abyssinia.

GREEK ANXIETY

Athens, Sept. 14.
The anxieties aroused here by Italian warships making unauthorized use of Greek harbours has been increased by the latest development, which is the arrival of an Italian seaplane off the coast of Corfu. The Italian explanation, that the plane brought medicines for Italian archeologists excavating on Corfu, is not considered very satisfactory.

In this connection it is learned that the Greek Government has informed its representatives at Geneva, that the Italian warships are putting into Greek harbours without permission.

GERMAN ATTACK ON COMMUNISM

Nuremberg, Sept. 13.
A smashing attack on Communism and Bolshevism was delivered by Herr Goebbels on Friday when he was addressing an audience in the packed Congress Hall. "Beginning August this year" commenced the propaganda minister, "one of the most responsible British papers published a leading article under the title of 'two dictatorships' in which an attempt was made to prove the alleged obvious similarity between German national socialism and Russian bolshevism."

The writer of the article stated that in opposing the problems of bolshevism national socialism waved over from the Governments which are similar in their structure and are identical in many of their laws. In both countries asserted this article there is the same censorship of art, literature, press, same war against intelligence of religion, same massed military display whether on Red Square or Tempelhof Field."

One could dismiss this article with pitying shrug of the shoulders went on Goebbels if the problems at issue did not concern political phenomena which under all circumstances are most important for future Europe.

Whereas international communism attempted to abolish all national racial characteristics national socialism regarded private property, personality, national race, idealism as forces which bear any from of civilization.

After a long account of communism in Soviet Union in which the speaker stressed the predominating part played by the Jews Goebbels declared "that is no social experiment, that is nothing else than a big scale attempt on the part of the Jews to appropriate and dispossess the Aryan governing class of all the countries in the world and to replace it by Jewish underworld."

This attempt must be met with the same ruthlessness and brutality with which they tried to gain power or with which it now retains power. As far as we are concerned we have overcome it completely.

History will one day acknowledge that by overthrowing bolshevism Herr Hitler saved Germany from an acute mortal danger and with her whole western civilization from complete destruction.

LAVAL'S SPEECH AT GENEVA

Berlin, Sept. 13.
That M. Laval definitely sides with England sums the impression here by M. Laval's speech at Geneva on Friday which together with Sir Saund Hoare's is no less important a declaration, on Thursday has aroused great interest, by giving rise to considerable speculation on future developments in the European constellation.

"If any speech can be binding, then M. Laval's speech of this morning was binding," writes the "Berliner Tageblatt" in the evening edition.

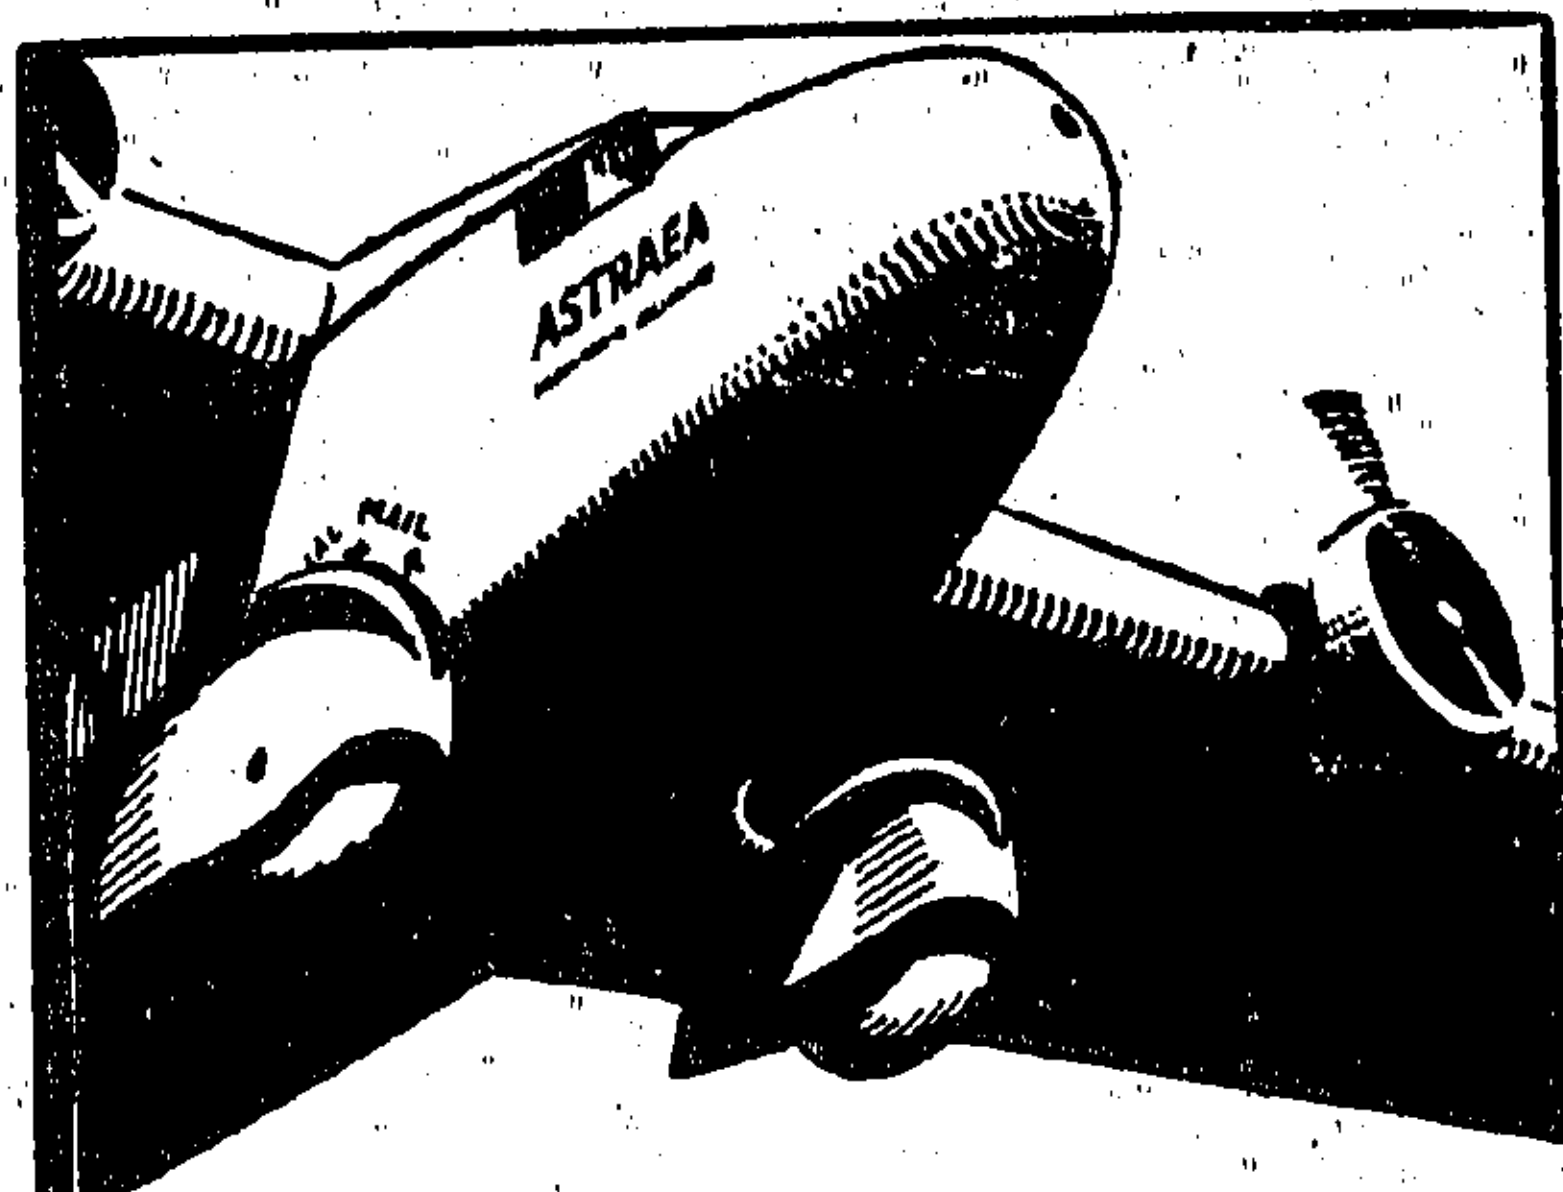

The two brief sentences which concluded the speech, goes on the paper "our obligations are laid down in the Covenant. France will not withdraw from hers" leave no room for misunderstanding regarding the solidarity of the French with the British Government, and far in excess of what was expected, M. Laval would say.

England and France, points out "Tageblatt" that they regard the Covenant as binding for them in its entirety and therein lies the threat of sanctions.

It is thought that it would be wrong to underestimate the significance of Franco-British harmony, now has been established, and which will influence the whole European politics. Nothing has been said, stresses the paper, to justify the few that momentous steps of applying sanctions against Italy will definitely be taken.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS

It has been often said that Charles Dickens drew upon his own experience to show us clearly his characters. Perhaps no greater range of Dickens can be found anywhere than in "Great Expectations" of which Universal has made one of the finest and most outstanding pictures of the year. The film is now being shown at the King's Theatre.

Almost a year of research and preparation was made necessary in the production of this film. It is a marvel of authenticity. Faithful replicas of the scenes and sets in the story were obtained at great cost and much trouble, inasmuch as many valuable pieces of furniture and bric-a-brac of almost 100 years ago, can no longer be found. The scene in the churchyard, at the opening of the story is actually standing in its reality. This set is a faithful reproduction of an old Kentish churchyard not far from the river actually mentioned in the story.

The kitchen set of Mrs. Joe Gargery, the blacksmith's wife, is an excellent reproduction of the type of kitchen in vogue then with the particular class of people to which she belonged. Again, the marshes where the great fight between the two convicts takes place, were especially built to represent as nearly as possible those soggy, treacherous and weird places which hug the banks of the river Thames in northern Kent.

Principal roles in the cast are taken by Hurl, Phillips Holmes, Jane Wyatt, Florence Reed, Alan Hale, George Breckston, Francis L. Sullivan and Rafaela Ottiano.

CHARLIE CHAN IN EGYPT

Audiences everywhere have hailed "Charlie Chan in Egypt" as the most thrilling engrossing and ingenious of the "Chan" series, to date. Once more starring Warner Oland, the picture comes on Wednesday to the King's Theatre. It's the story of Charlie Chan's serial adventure in the land of the Pharaohs and promises to be the biggest thrill ever offered to audiences in this city.

Priceless gold and jewelled treasures from the tomb of Amet, an ancient high priest, are stolen from among those brought to light by the French Historical Society's expedition near Luxor on the Nile, the great river and land over which Cleopatra once ruled.

Charlie Chan is hired by the Society to trace the thieves and to apprehend them. Three murders occur and everybody wonders whether it was Sekmet, the cat-headed Egyptian goddess of vengeance who struck down those disturbing the monarchs in their final slumber.

"Pat" Paterson, as the daughter of the expedition's leader, gives unusual support to Warner Oland and Stepin Fetchit, as a native of the desert sands who becomes Charlie Chan's strange and frightened aid, creates many comic situations. The bewitching Rita Cavano displays her charms and ability to good advantage, while Thomas Beck holds up his role with some good manly acting.

BLACK MOON

Trapped on a voodoo cursed island, while a thousand blood crazed natives howl for blood of the white: the mysterious and secret rituals of the African voodoo religion and the gripping drama that follows when Jack Holt discovers that his wife is the leader and the high priestess of the voodoo-mad natives, are the principal elements of the new Columbia production "Black Moon" opening to-morrow at the Queen's Theatre.

Jack Holt is the hero of the story, Fay Wray and Dorothy Burgess will be seen as his two featured leading ladies, with a cast that includes little Cora Sue Collins, Arnold Korff and Clarence Muse. Roy William Neil, who was responsible for "Whirlpool" directed "Black Moon." The story is an adaptation by Wells Root of Clements Ripley's Cosmopolitan magazine story, "Haiti Moon."

BOB LEIVERS

Out To Win Title

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 28. Bob Leivers, the Staffordshire swimmer, has his eye on an Olympic title.

Although he has failed to beat Norman Wainwright, England's greatest swimmer, in any of the national championships from 220 yards to one mile this year, he has, at times, given him a good race.

In the recent English half-mile championship, Wainwright beat Leivers by a foot, so Leivers is not far behind.

Both these swimmers are going into strict training during the coming winter, and close rivalry may be expected between them next summer.

An interesting fact about these two swimmers is that they live

NEW KILSYTH HOUSING SCHEME

Presses And Bedsteads Provided

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 28. Kilsyth Town Council on Saturday formally opened the first houses in their latest scheme at Barrow. The scheme includes 152 three and four apartment cottages and flats constructed under the 1930 Act, to be let at rents of from 4s 9d to 3s 3d per week, inclusive of taxes.

To avoid monotony, a colour scheme has been introduced, and each block has been painted a different colour. Delegates from other local authorities admired the finished wardrobe presses, shelved larders, oak bedsteads, and enamelled bathrooms which have been included in the furnishings.

When this scheme has been completed Kilsyth will have fully 40 per cent. of its population accommodated in municipal houses, which, it is believed, will be a record for any municipality.

At a luncheon held after the opening ceremony Provost Jarvie was presented with a silver tea service and Baille Callaghan with a wallet of Treasury notes.

Mr. Peter McKinnie, convener of the Public Health Committee for Strathclyde, said that in the county area they had re-housed about 5,000 families, or about 25 per cent. of the population of the landward part of the county. With what Kilsyth and other burghs had done, a very big step had been taken towards what must amount to a social reformation.

FURY OF THE JUNGLE

At The Queen's

A picture packed with emotional thrills with the locale in the South American Jungle of Malango is now showing at the Queen's Theatre. It is the Columbia production, "Fury of the Jungle."

The presence of one white woman in a jungle village populated by desperadoes and derelicts results in a mad maelstrom of passion and revenge.

Peggy Shannon as the lovely English girl who unwittingly incites this whirlpool proves herself a capable actress. Donald Cook and Dudley Digges as an escaped convict and a drunken doctor respectively gave very understandable portrayals in their roles. These two acted as her bodyguards after the death of her brother but the machinations of the villains (the parts played by Alan Dinehart and Harold Huber) were too much for them.

In the end the doctor and the villains all meet the same fate, that is death by being pushed into a crocodile infested river.

The doctor sacrifices his life to enable Donald Cook and Peggy Shannon to start life afresh together.

The picture is full of suspense and excitement which, added by a very capable cast, is worth seeing.—"C"

NO MORE FILMS

For Canton Cinemas

Canton, Sept. 13. Local cinema theatres are looking to the eight American film companies for the return of deposits given for the release of pictures for exhibition, as the eight companies have refused to send any more pictures up to Canton.

The total amount of deposits given by the leading motion theatres amount to over $100,000 local currency. It is said that the cinema theatres are seeking government assistance in securing the return of those sums.

The Canton Municipal Government, attempted to mediate but did not secure any satisfactory results.

Theatre managers take the position that the eight members of the Film board of China undertake by contract to supply them pictures for exhibition. Their failure to supply the pictures is a violation of the contract. They have to pay to the police authorities the censorship fees as required by law and failure to pay is no excuse for breaking the contract.

MOB VIOLENCE

The Disturbances In Edinburgh

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Sept. 3. An indictment of one recent religious disturbances in Edinburgh is made by the Very Rev. Principal W. M. Macgregor, D.D., Glasgow, in an article published in the Church of Scotland magazine, "Life and Work," under the title "Our Attitude to the Church of Rome."

Such outbreaks of mob violence as have recently been seen in Edinburgh, Principal Macgregor states, do more to help the Roman cause than the most skillful pleadings.

"Sympathetic indignation is awakened," he continues, "and just-minded outsiders are driven to feel that, if Protestantism can be vindicated only in such crude ways, its day is nearly done."

"To every devout soul, worship, however ill-directed, must always be venerable. This plan of pursuing with curses and wild threats a company of Romans, bewildered or exalted in presence of what they count a Divine Mystery, is not only indecent and ungodly, it is supremely stupid, as it operates directly in favour of the cause which it is intended to discredit."

Within the Evangelical Churches, there was a growing mass of lazy and half-kindly tolerance. Protestant propaganda was regarded by those people with impatience as the monopoly of reactionaries and fanatics and rowdies.

SLACKENING OF BELIEF

That mood was due partly to a general slackening in the intensity of belief, for indulgence of other men's opinions was a natural result of uncertainty regarding one's own. But there were other causes, Principal Macgregor said, and he pointed to the Edinburgh situation.

"On certain aspects of the Roman question," the Principal continued, "agreement among ourselves should not be impossible."

"If sufficient evidence can be produced that in some departments of municipal service key positions have been secured, and that now a Protestant, as such, is at a disadvantage—if it can be shown that, in face of native unemployment, fresh immigrants from Ireland have at once secured situations, then a social wrong is done which calls for exposure and redress."

"Where all alike are citizens, the community has no right to concern itself with a man's religion, but with his fitness for the job. It is complained that the Education Act of 1918, which aimed at removing an injustice to our Roman fellow-citizens, has actually secured for them a huge money endowment and a position of privilege."

TRUE SAINTS
Principal Macgregor, stating that "we are not free to forget that the Roman communion, however deplorable it may have departed from primitive standards, does yet possess many essential marks of a Church of Christ," remarks that the Roman Church has produced, and is producing, true saints. He also points to its record of missionary endeavour "rebuskily rich in patience and in heroic self-devotion."

BANKS TAKE PRECAUTIONS ON ITALIAN CREDITS

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 28. Britain is steadily reducing her commitments in Italy.

This action is dictated purely by business considerations. Similar considerations have induced one of the leading joint stock banks to close down a subsidiary in Genoa.

The subsidiary was largely concerned with the finance of British trade with Italy. Owing to the difficulty of securing payment for goods shipped to Italy trade has virtually been brought to a standstill. Hence the closing of the bank.

For several months past leading British banks have refused to renew credits given to Italian banks and business firms when they matured.

As a result the amount of such credits now outstanding is comparatively small.

Other banks have sharply curtailed the limits up to which Italian concerns may obtain credit.

For example, an Italian firm may have had a limit of £250,000 with a British bank. As soon as signs of trouble with Abyssinia developed the limit was cut down to the amount which the Italian firm had actually taken up, say £100,000.

he adds, "no one can predict, but in our country there is a rising tide of paganism both in faith and in morals: and it is not inconceivable that, some day, all who call Jesus Lord may be driven to stand together, acknowledging and assisting one another, in order to save our nation from the deluge."

A Skeleton Cabinet

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, August 25.
A Skeleton Cabinet is standing by to deal immediately with any emergency which may arise out of the Italo-Abyssinian dispute. This is the chief outcome of the all-day meeting of the full Cabinet, writes a correspondent.

At that meeting it was decided to:

Re-affirm the decision to adhere to all the obligations under our treaties and under the Covenant of the League.

I understand on the latter point that unless the Italian Government adopts a more reasonable attitude, a committee of the Cabinet and Sir Samuel Hoare have been given authority to grant limited licences for the export of munitions.

The door is still left open for negotiations for peace between Britain and France on the one hand and Italy on the other.

The atmosphere in official circles may be described as one of restrained optimism.

MAY CHANGE HER VIEW

It is believed that the general view held by the majority of the Cabinet is that if Britain and France work together in close unity they may, without having to resort to the imposition of sanctions force the Italian Government to adopt a more pacific point of view.

One thing is certain. Even if the League should decide to impose sanctions (and this can only be done after an act of aggression has been committed) Britain will not assume responsibility for being alone in endeavouring to enforce them.

It is of some significance that the Cabinet will not meet again before the meeting of the League Council on September 4 which is to consider the threat of war. Most of the Ministers, other than those forming the skeleton Cabinet, are returning to their interrupted holidays.

R.A.F. CHIEF'S VISIT

It is expected that Mr. Ramsay MacDonald will preside to-day over a meeting of the Committee of Imperial Defence.

Some significance was attached yesterday to the fact that while the Cabinet was in session, Air Chief Marshal Sir Edward Ellington, Chief of the Air Staff, visited No. 10, Downing-street and saw the Secretary of State for Air, Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister.

It was later explained that the visit was made concerning an Air Ministry matter.

British ships are being greeted with hoots and jeers from Italian soldiers on troopships passing through the Suez Canal.

Passengers and seamen who have just reached England from the East tell amazing stories of scenes in the Canal.

A cadet on a British liner from Australia told the "Daily Mirror" yesterday that his vessel was held up for hours to allow three big Italian troopships to pass through the Canal.

"As the ships passed us," he said, "the hundreds of soldiers on board hooted, jeered and made grimaces at us."

"Our crew took absolutely no notice of the Italians' threats. We just carried on with our work as though the Italians did not exist, and this seemed to infuriate them all the more."

Accidental shooting of an Italian Consul in Abyssinia caused a sudden alarm in European political circles.

At first it was feared that the Consul, Baron Muzzi Falconi, son-

THE SEISTAN IN AN ACCIDENT

After Leaving Docks

When the s.s. Seistan (2,000 tons) left the Kowloon Docks on Saturday after repainting and over-hauling, she was fated to return soon afterwards, for on approaching Douglas Pier, her customary berthing place next to the Star Ferry wharf, she ran into the Prava wall, causing damage to her bows just at the water line.

As might be expected great excitement was aroused and Connaught Road was soon crowded with interested spectators.

The vessel at once backed away from the pier, the skipper apparently intending to return to docks. Further mishap was to follow when approximately 200 yards from the shore, a junk was observed to be making her way down the harbour towards Lyceum, crossing the path of the steamer. It appeared almost certain after a few minutes that the two ships would just miss each other, but unfortunately the sail of the native craft was caught in a ladder on the side of the steamer, and the top of the mast snapped off. It fell on the deck and knocked two members of the crew of the junk into the water. Ropes and lifeboats from the ship were at once thrown into the water and they were pulled on board.

COMPETITORS FOR THE KING'S CUP

Two Woman Pilots

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 28.
The list of pilots for the King's Cup Air Race on September 6 and 7, issued by the Royal Aero Club, includes several well-known names.

Mr. O. Cathcart Jones, who with Mr. K. F. H. Waller secured fourth place in the England-Australia air race last October, and completed the out-and-home flight in the time of 134 days, will be flying a Miles Hawk Trainer with Gipsy Major engine. It will be the first public appearance of this aeroplane. Mr. Waller is flying a Percival Gull.

Captain G. de Havilland, who won the race in 1933, will not be competing, but two of his sons, Mr. Geoffrey de Havilland and Mr. Peter de Havilland, will pilot his latest machine, the D.H.9. This twin-engined four or five seat cabin biplane will also make its first public appearance in this race.

Captain W. L. Hope, who has won the first prize in the King's Cup Air Race three times, will pilot a Comper Swift with Gipsy III engine. Mr. C. J. Melrose, the young Australian who made a record flight from Australia to England last year, and afterwards secured third place in the handicap event of the Melbourne Centenary air race, will be flying a Percival Gull.

Captain H. S. Broad, who won the race in 1926, will fly the T.K.2, which the students of the de Havilland Aeronautical School have designed and built. Lord Wakefield has entered this machine. It is a low-wing cabin monoplane and will be flown in the race as a single-seater with extra fuel tanks in the available space.

The Percival Mew Gull entered by the Duke of Kent will be piloted by Mr. E. W. Percival.

The two women competitors in the race will be Mrs. E. Battye, flying a Miles Hawk Major, and Miss R. Slow, flying a Miles Hawk Speed Six.

in-law of the British Minister, Sir Sidney Barton, had been the victim of an outrage by Abyssinian tribesmen.

Subsequent messages, however, showed that the affair was an accident (says Reuter).

He had fired his pistol at some game, and it went off accidentally while he was replacing it in its holster.

The contingent of the 5th battalion (4th Punjab regiment) (Pathans) which has been ordered to Addis Ababa to reinforce the present guard of fifty Sudanese troops at the British legation there, left for Abyssinia last night, says Reuter from Poona.

ROUND THE COURTS

For stealing 67 buttons valued at $2 from Ala Din, proprietor of the Lahore Tailoring House of No. 12B, Hankow Road, Ng Sun-a tailor employed by the house was fined $25 with the alternative of 3 weeks' hard labour by Mr. W. M. Thomson at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday.

The master of the shop in giving evidence stated that the defendant had worked for him for the last three years at $12 per month.

Charged before Mr. W. M. Thomson on Saturday at the Kowloon Magistracy with harbouring a married woman named Chan Sze Mui between May 12 and September 13, a vegetable gardener, Che Wai was remanded for 48 hours in Police custody.

Inspector Ellis of the Shumshui-po Police Station stated that it is alleged that the woman's husband had accepted $30 from the accused. When the husband could not get any more money from him he came to the station and made a report that his wife was being harboured by the accused.

Ip Yuk, aged 48, unemployed, was sentenced to four months' hard labour by Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy on Saturday for the theft of 75 cents from the pocket of a spectator at the Wanchai playground. Defendant had two previous convictions and is a time-expired banished.

ATHEIST FAMILY

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 28.
Charles Bradlaugh had strong family support in his campaigns for free thought and reform. His three children were atheists. A pillar of strength was his eldest child, Mrs. Bradlaugh Bonner, who has just died at the age of 77.

Qualified in mathematics and chemistry, she lectured at the Hall of Science, spoke on the platforms of the National Secular Society (until a throat affection prevented her), and wrote many pamphlets and books on free thought and birth control.

She was her father's secretary on the "National Reformer" and assisted in his stormy political campaigns. She collaborated with John M. Robertson in the standard biography of Bradlaugh.

Her husband, a printer, was also in the movement, and printed many of Bradlaugh's writings.

BETTER-PAID AMBASSADORS

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 28.
A comparative study of the list of salaries explodes the fallacy that Ambassadors and Ministers are better paid to-day than formerly.

In 1889 the Minister to China received £20,000, as compared with £47,000 to-day; the Ambassador to Prussia £20,000, as against £21,000; the Ambassador to Turkey £20,000, as against £21,000; the Minister of Greece £20,000, as against £21,000; and the Ambassador to Russia £20,000, as against £21,000.

The Paris Ambassador, it is true, received only £10,000, as against £11,000 to-day.

London, Aug. 28.

A destructive fire occurred in Doune on Saturday afternoon, when the dwelling-house, Castleview, situated off Main Street, and a stable and garage adjoining were gutted.

When the fire was discovered by the occupant, Mr. Douglas Thomson, the kitchen was well ablaze, and Stirling Fire Brigade arrived to find flames bursting through the roof. The brigade were handicapped by low pressure in the water mains, and pumping had to be resorted to, with the result that many houses were without a supply during the dinner hour.

Mr. Thomson lost most of his furniture, and the total damage amounts to over £1000.

DARING ROBBERY

Portuguese Couple Held-Up

A daring highway robbery was perpetrated late on Saturday evening when two armed Chinese made a getaway with valuables to the extent of about $180. The victims were Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Sequeira, of No. 5 Rutland Quadrant, Kowloon Tong who in their report to the police stated that they were walking in the vicinity of Kowloon Tong when suddenly the two Chinese males, one of whom was armed with a revolver suddenly made their appearance from behind the bushes on a hillside path leading from a reservoir to Kowloon Tong.

The one who possessed the revolver threatened the victims, while the other man relieved Mrs. Sequeira of a gold ring, valued at $10, a wrist watch with band, valued at $50, and an expanding bangle, valued at $100.

Mr. Sequeira was also searched, but nothing was taken from his pockets. The robbers fled in the direction of Shumshuipo.

No arrests have been made so far.

CLAN CHIEF LAID TO REST

Funeral Of MacLeod Of MacLeod

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 28

Over a mile and a half of winding roadway clansmen carried on Saturday the remains of Sir Reginald MacLeod of MacLeod from Dunvegan Castle, Isle of Skye, to the family burial ground in the ruined church of St. Mary at Kilmuir.

Laird and crofter paid a last tribute to the 27th Chief of the Clan MacLeod, who was laid to rest beside his brother, Norman Magnus, and his father and mother. Mourners in relays of six, carried the bier on which rested the coffin, shrouded in a plaid of MacLeod tartan.

Ten generations of the MacLeods, hereditary pipers to MacLeod, are interred in the churchyard, and it was peculiarly fitting that one of the greatest compositions of this distinguished line should have been played after the coffin had been lowered into the moss-lined grave.

FAMOUS LAMENT

Pipe-Major Reid, who travelled by air to Skye—the aeroplane in which he was a passenger passed over the castle just before the service commenced—played "The Lament for the Children," pining to and fro beside the ruined church.

The lament was composed by Patrick More Macrimmon about 1650 when, according to tradition, he lost seven of his eight sons within a year of a fever brought to Dunvegan by the crew of a sailing vessel. It is considered by many experts to be the most beautiful piobach in existence. Only a master can play it properly.

During the interment the general mourners remained outside the walls of the roofless church. They subsequently filed past the grave and took farewell of a chief whose family has been in Skye for many centuries.

The final ceremony was conducted by the Rev. R. A. Hendy, Vicar of Woburn, Buckinghamshire, who is at present staying at Portree.

IN THE CASTLE COURTYARD
Four Presbyterian ministers participated in the service which was held outside the entrance to Dunvegan Castle, which is dominated by a tall, square tower. While clansmen and isle-men were gathered in the courtyard of the castle set on a rock, pipes concealed from view by the trees and shrubbery were playing a lament.

The coffin, on which rested a single floral tribute and the bount with the three eagle feathers depicting chieftainship, had been placed outside the main doorway. Close by it stood a piper, and the mourners—some were in morning dress and many wore a cap—lined themselves round the walls. Those in Highland dress included The MacLeods of Macleintosh and Lochiel.

Wrapped round the flagpole on the battlements was the MacLeod banner at half-mast. There was scarcely an air of wind, and only the screaming of the gulls in the shore broke the stillness. The simple but solemn service commenced when the mist was lifting from the hills and revealing their purple grandeur.

GAELIC AND ENGLISH SERVICE
From the entrance steps the Rev. Alexander MacKinnon, parish minister of Dunrobin, conducted the service, which was partly in MURDER AND SUICIDE?

Chinese Hotel Tragedy

Luk Kwok Hotel was the scene of a double tragedy on Saturday when a Chinese male and a female were found dead in each other's arms under circumstances strongly pointing to murder and suicide.

On Friday afternoon the man arrived at the hotel and registered under the name of Wanx Fuk Shu. He was accompanied by the girl and a room was booked on the third floor of the hotel.

Early on Saturday morning the folks heard screams emanating from the room and on the door being broken down found the couple clasped in each other's arms both apparently dead. The police were immediately summoned and on inspection found that the woman had two stab wounds in her left breast and several in the abdomen. The man had an 'X' wound in the abdomen and a gash across his throat.

A dagger was found lying nearby while a letter was found in the woman's pockets. Their identity is at present unknown and although they registered as coming from Canton there is a possibility that they were local people.

English and partly in Gaelic. The 23rd Psalm was rendered in English; the Rev. D. MacArthur, Waterlawn, gave a Gaelic prayer; a portion of Scripture was read in Gaelic by the Rev. D. Morrison, Dunvegan; and the Rev. Hector MacLean, Broadford, read a portion in English.

Tradition was closely followed in the singing in Gaelic of the 38th Psalm. Mr. Roderick Budge, who led the praise, gave out the line, and the company repeated it. After the Benediction had been pronounced Mr. Seton Gordon played "The Lament for Rory More," a tune composed about 1830 by one of the MacLeods for the thirteenth chief, who was commonly called by that name. The waterfall at the castle is named after him.

Women relatives were standing just inside the doorway of the castle when estate employees transferred the coffin to the bier, and the funeral procession, headed by a piper playing "The Flowers of the Forest," started on its way up the avenue.

WAILING OF THE PIPES

Every forty or fifty yards six men fell out and relieved those carrying the bier, and in this way all the mourners in turn assisted in carrying the chief to his resting place beside his fathers.

Visitors to Skye—among them many from the southern country, where Sir Reginald worked and lived for many years—aw for the first time a Highland chieftain's funeral.

Two by two the mourners proceeded at a slow pace along the roadway which twists and turns above Dunvegan Loch and gives a view of the flat-topped hills known as "MacLeod's Tables." The wailing of the pipes was unceasing during the two hours which passed before the bier was carried through the narrow entrance of the church, with its weather-stained walls, in every crevice of which wild ferns are growing.

The service at the graveside was brief, and the pall-bearers—one of whom were a yachting cap—remained the open grave while the pipers played the famous Macrimmon lament, a composition of great length.

THE PALL-BEARERS

The pall-bearers were:—Captain Woolrige Gordon of Hallhead; Mr. Norman Heathcote; Lochiel; Mr. Alister Macdonald of Sleat; Mr. Bertram Mitford; Sir John Lorne MacLeod; Major R. C. MacLeod, secretary of the Clan Association; and Mr. Neil Nicolson, the oldest employee on the estate.

The Beaufield Trustees, of whom Sir Reginald was one, were represented by The MacLeintosh and Colonel the Hon. Ian Campbell. Other mourners were:—Sir Murdoch Macdonald, M.P.; Mr. R. Robertson MacLeod of Greahorish; Colonel Macdonald of Tote; Mr. Angus Nicholson, representing the Department of Agriculture for Scotland; Dr. Cumming Grant, chief of the Gaelic Society of London; Major Hillory; Mr. H. H. Mackenzie, North Uist; Mr. C. I. Fraser of Reelig, representing Inverness Unionist Association; Major Shaw of Corry; Mr. Francis Pepys, Bennis, London; Bailie Joseph MacLeod, Inverness; Captain A. R. Macdonald, Waterlawn; Messrs J. T. and W. D. MacKenzie, Edinburgh; Mr. Ian MacLeod, Isleornsay; Colonel H. W. Kemble of Knock; Mr. Malcolm M'Innes, Ostia; and Mr. Duncan MacLeod of Skeenbo, who travelled from Glasgow by

BAIL REDUCED

Lemcke Released

Shanghai, Sept. 11.

Taking into consideration the fact that Mr. Carl J. Lemcke had made strenuous but unavailing efforts to secure the U.S.$2,500 bail fixed by the U. S. Court for China and had deposited with the Clerk of the Court the sum of U.S.$1,500, together with his passport, Judge Milton J. Helmick made an order yesterday afternoon for the bail to be reduced to that amount, and that he be released from custody.

The order was issued by Judge Helmick at 4.30 p.m. yesterday, enabling Mr. Lemcke to leave the Amoy Road Gaol early in the evening. He will, however, have to report to Mr. Edward Faupel, Marshal of the Court, at least once a week until the case comes up for trial.

Mr. Lemcke was arrested, in company with Mr. Eugene Brinson, in Hankow last week, and was brought here on a charge of attempting to aid in the escape of Joseph Walden, now serving a fifteen years' imprisonment sentence for espionage. Both men will be legally represented by Mr. N. F. Allman at their trial.

Diligent and Aggressive Efforts
The order signed by Judge Helmick runs as follows:—

"It appearing to the Court from the application of Julius C. Lemcke that he has made diligent and aggressive efforts to secure the bail heretofore set by the Court without success, and it further appearing to the Court that the said defendant has tendered to the Clerk of this Court the sum of $1,500 U.S. cash, and it further appearing to the Court that in addition defendant has turned in to the Clerk his passport, and it further appearing to the Court that there is a likelihood of at least two months delay before his trial can be reached. Now, therefore, it is ordered,

"That the bail heretofore fixed by this Court for defendant Julius C. Lemcke be reduced to U.S.$1,500; that the Clerk of this Court accept the said U.S.$1,500 cash tendered to him as aforesaid, together with the passport of the defendant, and that defendant be released from custody pending his trial. It is further ordered that defendant report to the Marshal of this Court at least once a week until the date of trial of this cause."

LEISURE THAT KILLS

Leisure, the time of relaxation which is so precious to those immersed in earning their daily bread has become a word without a meaning for the unemployed for in one sense his existence is entirely leisured. Yet to the many thousands who are still hoping for work, each day with no calls upon it, no compulsions or responsibilities, comes only as another enemy to be faced. Thus the normal position is reversed for a task would be the refreshment while free hours inflict an unending strain. This great problem of the unemployed man's "leisure," the idleness which consumes his restful body and brain was touched recently by the Master of Balliol who expressed the hope that means could be found to convert the blank years "from a frightful evil to a glorious gain." In giving an instance of the extreme difficulty of such a transportation, Dr. Lindsay pointed out that even the highly educated, "the leisured classes," may feel embarrassed how to bestow their time, though they can summon to their help resources both of mind and pocket infinitely beyond the reach of the unemployed man. But since it has been said with some truth that as a man uses his leisure so he is, it behoves both the Government which must superintend this long depression and the well-disposed private citizen to relieve as far as they can the barren slowness of time in the distressed areas. In certain communities there are men in the prime and fullness of life who keep their beds till afternoon, partly because "he who sleeps dines," but also because it seems more pleasant to do nothing lying down than to do nothing standing up in a cold street corner. Now and again the unemployed man manages to get together enough coppers for a cinema show and there are a certain number who spend their time listening in on the "home mad" wireless sets but these are no more than anomalies. When the ordinary individual requires leisure, what is it for? Rarely so that he may relax into passivity, but to have the opportunity for the active, and very often strenuous, pursuit of a private interest. If free cinemas and wireless sets were made available in the affected areas, they would soon lose all their attraction. What really gives content to the unemployed, short of real work, would be something which closely resembles it. There is no doubt a deep appreciation of the charity which sends clothes and shoes and household comforts into derelict homes, but the warmest gratitude is kept for those who provide hands with a reason for being taken out of pockets.

If Gossip We Must

(BY "ONLOOKER").

Autumn is upon us! Isn't it lovely to get this coolness so early, and doesn't it make it sit up and take notice, and want to go places? Saturday night at the "Grips" was most cheerful—in spite of a great many habitués being away at the Shek-O Flannel dance. There was lots of room to dance, and the "Revellers" surpassed themselves with all the favourite tunes that we demanded. Julius Silverio's piano solo number was too marvellous—I wish he would treat us to more of them!

Amongst the parties who were dining I noticed an enormous celebration of about fourteen souls. It was a very thrilling occasion—an engagement party of our famous interport soccer party captain—the popular "Syd" Strange! Alas I do not know the name of his attractive fiancée who was looking appropriately radiant in the most becoming pink dress Mr. and Mrs. Frederick were dining a deux, and she was wearing a very becoming black dress with a gorgeous shade of red about the yoke.

As usual Miss Joseph was one of the smartest girls there. She was wearing a lovely dress of dark peacock green—very plain, and perfectly cut. Another dress which definitely stood out in the crowd was Miss Ina Dunnett's figured brown one with that very new neckline. Mrs. Divett was dancing beautifully with her husband in a most becoming shade of green, and Mrs. Noble was wearing something redish. Miss Shellah Dewnap was in white, with a fascinating little pique monkey jacket, cut just like a man's except that it had short sleeves. Then there was somebody unknown to me in a delicious sprigged muslin with a collar like the petals of a rose, and a blue velvet sash. Mrs. Leslie Ross was looking very striking, and was wearing the most gorgeous ring with an enormous pearl in the centre. How I love the fashion of these huge rings. But what happens if you have to wear gloves?

ON FRIDAY NIGHT

I had a look in at the "Grips" on Friday night too, and everything seemed very festive, especially after the fascinating horror of "Frankenstein." I caught a glimpse of the popular Mrs. Batchelor of Canton who had just returned from a trip to Japan. Mr. and Mrs. Child and Mr. and Mrs. Evan Stewart were there. And Mr. and Mrs. Mike Turner, and Betty and Beryl Fayre were having a family party, all looking as nice as ever.

HOUSE WARMING PARTY

(BY "WIRELESS").

House warming parties are always extremely enjoyable affairs and the one given by Mr. Henry Tibbit, Captain Wilkinson and Mr. MacAllister at "Sheung Fai" Repulse Bay, was no exception. They made extremely good hosts and are to be congratulated for not only is the house beautifully decorated, but it is also surrounded by the most delightful scenery imaginable, facing Repulse Bay. One feature that deserves special mention is that there are ponds all over the garden.

There were lots of people there including Mr. Eu Tong Seng, Mr. Ma Man-fai, Mr. and Mrs. Soprani, Mr. and Mrs. Crapnell and their two daughters, Mr. T. A. Martin and Mr. Peter Strickland.

Two newcomers to the Colony seen were the Misses Linhart and Augstad both of whom were looking very well and appearing to be enjoying themselves. Mr. Lawrence Kadoorie was there too, and so were the Miss Nissim and Mrs. Gubbay.

Mrs. Moodie Heddle was dressed in a beautiful black net cocktail dress that had a very transparent look about it while Mrs. Dannebaum, a visitor from California was looking exquisite in a white gown with pleated cape. Then I saw Col. Dowbiggin and his daughter Joan, Mr. Clay and his daughter, Dorothy, Major and Mrs. Hogg and Mrs. Child.

It was indeed a party to be remembered and everybody had such a fine time.

AU REVOIR!

There was much activity on board the a.s. President Grant on Friday night for on the vessel were a number of well-knowns going North for holiday trips while the members of Young Australia League also left by that vessel for Shanghai. I saw Messrs. Ed. Murphy, Buxton and Norman Stockton, all very busy saying au revoir and bon voyage to a large number of friends.

One member of the "League" paid a charming tribute to the Colony when she said that she said that she was sorry to leave "such a nice place with such nice people." She was, however, looking forward to seeing Hong Kong again on their way home.

While digging in a quarry near the Cosmopolitan Dock, Shun-shui, at 11 a.m. on Saturday a Chinese named Tang Kai Nan, was killed instantaneously by a large rock, which became loose and fell on him. Another Chinese who was digging nearby was removed to the Kowloon Hospital suffering from slight injuries.

A peculiar tragedy occurred at 10 a.m. on Saturday when a Chinese male, aged about 30 years, slipped and fell heavily to the ground. As a result blood began to flow continuously from his mouth and nostrils, until he expired a few minutes later. The accident occurred in the S.C.A. market, which is situated opposite the Kowloon Magistracy in Shanghai Street. It is thought that the deceased was in an advanced stage of tuberculosis, which apparently caused a blood vessel in his lungs to burst when he fell. The body was removed to the Kowloon mortuary.

The China International Famine Relief Commission has just sent a sum of $5,000 for emergency relief in Yen-shih, Honan. This money will be handled and spent by the Yen-shih Lutheran Church Famine Relief Committee. The Commission has also forwarded a sum of $1,000 to Dr. F. G. Scovel of the Presbyterian Hospital at Tsinning, Shantung, for buying medicines for use among the flood refugees. Both Yen-shih and Tsinning are among the most seriously flooded counties this year. The Hupeh Provincial Committee of the China International Famine Relief Commission has allocated a sum of $30,000 for farm rehabilitation work on a loan basis in order to enable the flood victims in Hupeh province to recover from the disastrous effects of the summer floods.

Mr. E. T. Nystrom has recently returned from Sweden, where he has been spending the summer, and has taken up residence at his home in Kuei Chai Chang.

ENDEAVOUR TO EFFECT A SETTLEMENT

Renewed Attention By League Committee

MUSSOLINI ISSUES COMMUNIQUE

London, September 14. Continued hope of conciliation in the Italo-Abyssinian dispute which was expressed by M. Laval, in the League Assembly yesterday, has directed renewed attention to the work of the Committee of Five appointed by the Council of League to endeavour to effect a settlement. Its sub-committee was closely engaged yesterday on examination of proposals for settlement and their work continues. It is not expected that their report will be ready for presentation to Council before Monday. The reply of the Abyssinians to the Italian memorandum had not been received by this morning and this document will demand careful study.

The proposals upon which the sub-committee is meanwhile at work are based on the principles of suggestions made during the Paris negotiations with the introduction of certain new elements, but there is no question of any concession that would involve Abyssinia's sovereign rights and political independence. Broadly stated, the aim of the Paris proposals was to give to Abyssinia that collective assistance for which she asks to facilitate her social and economic development. The newspapers state that this would be coupled with certain territorial concessions to Italy and provision for securing Abyssinian access to the sea.

The proposals provided for collective guarantees of stability for any arrangements entered into and it was contemplated that the whole plan would be exercised in the name of the League. The original proposals will probably be found to depart from those under consideration at Paris in several respects, but in particular the possibility of carrying out the scheme by expansion of the Three-Power treaty of 1906 into a Four-Power treaty with Abyssinia as a signatory appears to have been dropped in favour of what would be essentially a League situation.

When general discussion at the League Assembly was resumed, M. Litvinoff, Soviet delegate, said that if the delegates left that Assembly with the certainty that the States whose representatives had addressed them had formally and solemnly pledged their Governments to use the League as an instrument of peace in all cases of aggression, irrespective of their origin and of their object, that the Assembly would become a landmark in the new history of the League.

The State he represented would be second to none in the loyal discharge of assumed international obligations, more especially in the noble task of securing to all nations the blessings of peace which mankind never valued and appreciated so much as it did now after its relatively recent ordeals. The representatives of several other powers including Portugal, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey and Irish Free State also took part in to-day's debate and pledged their fidelity to the League.

COMMITTEE'S REPORT

Geneva, Sept. 14. Now that the Soviet in the person of M. Litvinoff has added its voice at this morning's session of the Assembly, it is felt that the circle of powers standing by the covenant is complete.

The hands of the Committee of Five are tremendously reinforced thereby and it will continue its work over the week-end. There is hope of completing its report on Monday night or Tuesday for submission to both sides.

M. Laval returns to Paris for the week-end and will be replaced by M. Leger who will put the finishing touches to the report on behalf of France.

Nobody here expects that Signor Mussolini will accept a solution to the dispute on the basis of the Paris proposals, the broad lines of which he has already rejected, but nevertheless it is understood these proposals remain the basis of the report.

Rejoicing is widespread here, due not to the belief that war can be averted but to the conviction that the League has been saved from the biggest threat to its existence in history and it will present an united front to aggressors.

The Police Foreign Minister, Colonel Beck, Dr. Tewfik Aras and the Spanish delegate, Senor Madariaga agreed not to address the Assembly in the general discussion owing to the delicacy of their position as members of the Committee of Five.

ITALIAN COMMUNIQUE

Rome, Sept. 14. Signor Mussolini in the course of a communique issued after a meeting of the Cabinet lasting two and half hours considering the situation created by the British and French declarations at Geneva, said that the Cabinet noted with satisfaction the cordial words M. Laval dedicated to the Italo-French agreement of January. Italy intends to develop the friendship of those agreements

INDICTMENT BY ITALY

Frenchman Replies For Abyssinia

Geneva, Sept. 14. The Italian documents have been carefully drawn up and many witness cited were never consulted, declares the Abyssinian reply to the Italian indictment published last evening.

The reply was prepared by the French ethnographer, M. Griaule, who says that the error of date in the Italian memorandum of nearly a thousand years is sufficient to discourage serious examination of the indictment.

It is pointed out in the reply that there is no case in the history of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute where Abyssinia declined to submit the question to arbitration when requested to do so by Italy.

The reply accuses Italy of establishing consular posts in the ports of Abyssinia which can only have strategic interest and of stirring up trouble among the army and tribesmen.

If the conditions in Ethiopia are really as suggested in the Italian indictment, why has no other foreign legation protested against her? The Italian indictment does not justify the intervention of a foreign power in Abyssinia, and M. Griaule proposes an impartial inquiry by a committee of experts.

ITALY WAITING

Rome, September 14. The adjournment of the League Assembly and the continuance of deliberations of the Committee of Five are believed to be responsible for the postponement of the more important statement by Signor Mussolini announcing more definite action regarding Abyssinia or the question of Italian withdrawal from the League.

The British and French Embassies are surrounded by extra guards of police and carabinieri. This step is taken owing to the public's interpretation of M. Laval's speech as meaning the abandonment of Italy.

CALMER ATMOSPHERE

Rome, Sept. 13. Despite the apparently uncompromising nature of M. Pierre Laval's speech to the League in support of Great Britain and the Covenant, the feeling here is calmer this evening.

It is the impression that M. Laval's bark is worse than his bite, and that he will not consent to join in enforcing sanctions against Italy in any circumstances.

FRANCE'S POSITION AT GENEVA

Uneasiness Displayed By French Press

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By) Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1893. Received, September 15, 7.50 p.m.)

Paris, Sept. 15. Considerable uneasiness regarding France's position at Geneva is manifested by the paper "Intransigent," which expresses doubt whether Britain would in other cases have adopted the same attitude she so clearly defined before the League Assembly.

The paper asks whether in the event of a dispute arising not in Africa but in Europe, would Britain likewise be prepared to place her moral prestige and material resources in the balance, and goes on to point out that Sir Samuel Hoare's speech contained no such indication.

The British press, according to this paper, is also silent on this point. Britain, says the paper, is prepared to adopt energetic measures in the case of Abyssinia, but what would she do in the case of Austria?

France, in the paper's opinion, must be considered still more isolated than before when she was assured of Italy's friendship.

The Nationalist organ "Liberte" blames Britain for the present imbroglio, saying that France from the outset had desired to see positive rules enacted which are susceptible of application in all cases, whereas Britain always opposed this policy.

The paper "Paris Soir" publishes the following declaration by the French delegate to the League of Nations and the ex-Foreign Minister M. Paul Boncour: "One of the most important events in the last few days has been Sir Samuel Hoare's declaration that Britain henceforth favours the application of the League of Nations covenant at all times and in all places and under all circumstances, just as M. Herriot and myself have never ceased to advocate for the past ten years."—Frankfurter Kuo Men.

THE COVENANT

Geneva, Sept. 13. Members of the Little Entente and the Balkan Entente have decided that M. Puritch of Yugoslavia will speak to the Assembly on behalf of the former group, and M. Maximos of Greece, on behalf of the latter.

Both will strongly support the attitudes of M. Laval and Sir Samuel Hoare, French and British spokesmen respectively, urging the necessity of upholding the League Covenant.

Reuter.

WELCOME IN LONDON

London, Sept. 13. The French Prime Minister's ten-minute speech in the League Assembly this morning, in which he said that France was bound by the Covenant of the League and would not shirk her responsibilities, is welcomed in London as a public endorsement that French policy is in complete alignment with British and as contributing to the prospects of a peaceful settlement.

M. Laval said the Committee of Five were discussing every proposal which might reconcile the difference between Italy and Ethiopia. According to Geneva messages, the Committee is meeting again on Monday.

APPEAL ENDORSED

New York, Sept. 13. President Roosevelt has announced a further endorsement of Mr. Cordell Hull's appeal to Italy and Ethiopia to adhere to the Kellogg Pact and not to resort to war.

President Roosevelt expressed concern at the situation and responding to a question at the regular press conference made it clear that if war breaks out abroad the United States would be very definitely neutral because recent legislation created six months' neutrality and an embargo on arms exports.

ITALY PREPARES

Athens, Sept. 13. The greatest military and naval activity is proceeding in the Dodecanese Islands in the Aegean Sea, where Italy is transporting troops, stores and aircraft. Destroyers are at present patrolling and surveying the seas between the islands of Patmos, Leros, Cos and Calymnos.

Heavy coast defence guns have been transferred from Calymnos to Leros. The coasts of all the islands are heavily guarded and motor launch owners have been threatened with instant death if they are caught assisting the inhabitants to escape to Greece.

The Dodecanese islands were divided, following the Great War, between France and Italy, by an arrangement agreeable to both.

"GENEROUS BUT JUST"

Paris, Sept. 13. M. Pierre Laval's stand for the League of Nations is termed "generous but just" by one authority, and from the French Prime Minister's utterances it is deduced that Great Britain has promised support of sanctions against any aggressor in any part of Europe.

It is known that M. Laval is still endeavouring to talk Signor Mussolini over to a different frame of mind.

INDIA WINS

The International Shield

U. M. Omar the C.C.C. skip completely vindicated himself yesterday when he led the Indians' four to victory against the Malayan rink skipped by A. R. Dallah, in the final of the International shield competition. It will be recalled that Dallah beat Omar in a league encounter on the previous day.

A. no stage of the game was the Indian rink threatened. They had practically matters all their own way and at the 5th head were leading by 12 shots to nil. The final score was 24 shots to 12 in favour of the Indians.

Man for man the Indians were the superior with the exception of Arcull who had to bow to the youthful M. R. Abbas whose shots were very well directed. Abbas laid most of his shots for his side but was not receiving the usual support from his men.

A. M. Omar was better than A. M. Wahab while D. Rumjahn was good without being brilliant and he had Adal covered quite effectively. U. M. Omar gave very little away. For the first 10 heads the Malaysians were all at sea. Omar gave them very little rope and Dallah was not playing as well as expected though it must be said that he did not receive the same amount of support as U. M. Omar.

The score at the 6th head was 12 shots to 2 in India's favour and it was only after the 11th head that the Malaysians were able to get moving. Malaya scored a three and a two on the 12th and 13th heads respectively to be followed by a single on the very next head. This bit of good work was primarily due to Abbas who laid the foundation for A. R. Dallah to put the finishing touches.

The game was not quite so very interesting as the earlier rounds. India did not have much opposition and at one time everything pointed to a runaway victory for India.

India scored 8 singles, four twos, a three and a five to Malaya's three singles, three twos and a three.

India:—E. el Arcull, A. M. Omar, D. Rumjahn, U. M. Omar (skip).

Malaya:—M. R. Abbas, A. M. Wahab, M. Y. Adal, A. R. Dallah (skip).

It would be interesting to note that the match was also in the nature of an inter-club game, Malaya representing the Indian Recreation Club and India representing Craigengower Cricket Club.

HONG KONG WINS

Tennis Against Canton

At the Chinese Recreation Club, Hong Kong defeated Canton in the Interport tennis encounter for the Wong Po Keung Cup by four games to one, the visitors' sole success being achieved when Lal Kwong Tsun defeated G. F. M. Ricketts, Hong Kong's ranking No. 2 player.

Hong Kong led on Saturday by two games to nil, and the contest was continued with a doubles game played yesterday morning. This resulted in a easy victory for Hong Kong in three straight sets. Tiffin was then taken, both teams being the guests of the Chinese Recreation Club.

The first and only success for Canton came with the commencement of the first game after tiffin, when Ricketts bowed to Lal Rumjahn, the local champion, then accounted for G. Bodiker, No. 1 ranking player in Canton, in three straight sets. Rumjahn lead 5 games to nil in the last set, when Bodiker made a belated recovery to level the score at 5 all. The effort however, was too much for him, for he lost the next two games, the set and match.

Mr. Justice Lindsell, president of the Hong Kong Lawn Tennis Association then presented the cup to the captain of the Hong Kong team, S. A. Rumjahn, after delivering short speech.

The full results were as follows: H. D. Rumjahn and Ho Ka Lau of Hong Kong defeated Lal Yat Fong and Lal Kwong Tsun (Canton) 6-4, 6-1, 6-2.

G. M. R. Ricketts (Hong Kong) lost to Lal Kwong Tsun (Canton) 4-6, 1-6, 2-6.

S. A. Rumjahn (Hong Kong) beat G. Bodiker (Canton) 6-1, 6-2, 7-5.

SATURDAY'S RESULTS

S. A. Rumjahn, the Colony champion, beat Lal Kwong Tsun (Canton) 6-1, 7-5, 6-2.

G. R. M. Ricketts (Hong Kong) beat G. Bodiker (Canton) 7-5, 6-2, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4.

The new Council is composed of thirty-five members, chosen from all over China on the merits of their academic standing in their respective fields of research. The meeting was attended by Mr. Wang Ching-Wei, President of the Executive Yuan and concurrently Minister of Foreign Affairs, representing the National Government, Mr. Tai Chi-Tao, President of the Examination Yuan, representing the Central Party Headquarters, and a large gathering of prominent scholars, including Dr. Hu Shih, Dean of the College of Literature of the Peking University, Ong Wen-Hou, noted geologist, Dr. V. adequate subsidy to finance the different kinds of scientific research works under Government supervision, was made by Mr. Hsu Hsien-Shu, member of the Academia Sinica. After a brief exchange of views among the members present, these two proposals, together with four others were referred to a committee for examination. The meeting was continued in the afternoon and will last till Monday afternoon.

ORIGINAL RESEARCH

It should be noted that the Academia Sinica does not exist merely to recognize scientific achievement, although from time to time it does confer honours on scholars of distinction, nor does it act as a teaching body, except insofar as the various Institutes train their own research assistants. Its charter functions are (1) to carry on original research and (2) to act as an organ for promoting and co-ordinating scientific research in China. By the establish-

GOLD PRICE FALLS

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 28.
The price of gold in London dwindled further yesterday. At $2 19s 10 1/2 per ounce it touched the lowest recorded since last December.

The quotation is fixed in accordance with the movements of the dollar and the franc, and the recent fall is really due to the strength of the pound. This is the more notable because the pound usually weakens at this period of the year. The buying of sterling reveals that the world political crisis has not impaired the trust of financial centres in British currency.

Another influence at work in the gold market is the temporary absence of demand from either speculators or hoarders.

ment of the new Advisory Council it is hoped to bring the Academy into closer touch with the everyday research work which is going on in various parts of China, particularly with regard to peculiar Chinese conditions and products, and thus extend the scope of its usefulness. It is a worthy aim and calls for unstinted support.

THE SHARE MARKET

Harriman's Weekly Review

September 14, 1935.
Messrs. G. A. Harriman & Co.'s weekly share report and market review issued at noon to-day states:—

Due to lack of buying support, the market again ruled easier during the week under review. Investment issues were marked down tremendously with Hong Kong Trams touching a new low level of $10.75 and Hong Kong Electric of $52 1/2. Hong Kong Lands also saw a new low record of $23 1/2 and more shares were available at this figure. Star Ferries eased off to a selling rate of $78; buyers offering $77. Telephones (old), slipped from $20 to $19, small business having been done at $19 1/2. Wharves (old), after sales at $76, were on offer at $73. Dairy Farms receded to a selling rate of $154. Minor issues relapsed into apathy. Hotels were on offer at $32.20 after transactions at $31.10 China Lights had sellers at $3.05 and Ropes at $2. Cements were a shade better with business done at $2.80. Sterling counters were slightly easier, Hong Kong Banks having changed hands at $1035/40 and Unions at $375. The market again closes on the easy side.

Business during the week has been done at the following prices: H.K. Banks, $1035/1035 1/2; H. K. Trams, 107 1/2/114; H. K. Electric, $52 1/2/53; Cements, $2.00; Wharves (old), $24/24 1/2; H. K. Lands, $23 1/2/24; Watsons, $3.00; H. K. Docks, $3 1/2/3.00; Lights, $8.05; Unions, $375.00; United Paracels, 35 cts.; H.K. Lands 4% Deb., $23 1/2; Humphreys, $7.00.

BERLIN BOURSE

Berlin, Sept. 14.
The strong discipline to do business in shares noticeable on Friday continued the next day, investors apparently preferring to await the Sunday Reichstag declaration. Prices consequently declined. Fixed interest securities were dull, the prices remaining at about the same level as on Friday. Call money was at 4, Young Loan went 1/2 lower to 102, Reichsbanks weakened 1/2 to 18 1/2, Dye Trusts were 1/2 better to 18 1/2, Salzdorf-Potash (unquoted) on Friday 18 1/2, German Steel Trusts 1/2 better to 8 1/2, German Mineral Oils dropped 1/2 to 10 1/2, Siemenshalske 1/2 lower to 1744, Bemberg Rayon unchanged at 113.

One of the reasons why the sharemarket was quiet throughout the week was that the new issue of ten-year treasury bonds offered are being greedily taken up by investors. Another substantial decrease in unemployment tended to strengthen confidence, also the Fuehrer's hopeful view of the raw material supply as expressed in the Nuremberg speech.

The speeches of Laval and Sir Samuel Hoare at Geneva resulted in certain relaxation respecting the international situation, but German investors nevertheless are cautious awaiting Hitler's important Reichstag declarations at Nuremberg on Sunday. Fixed interest securities were quiet throughout, the prices tending to decline. Transocean Kuo Min.

IMPORT PRICES

The reports and prices are published as supplied by Importers: Cotton Piece-Goods and Fancy Cotton Goods.

The following reports have been received:— There is still no interest shown in the buying of Spring goods and indications are that purchases will not be large. The market is very quiet in all kinds of piece goods and deliveries are very few. The Spring season is now drawing to a close and although the carry-over of British and foreign productions is negligible, there are heavy stocks of Japanese manufacture.

Woolens

New season's Woolens and Worsted are now arriving but the market has not yet opened. Although quantities are small, a good season with normal profits is not anticipated.
